

Personal Profile

Armand E. Brachman Principal

As principal of Dominion Development & Acquisition, LLC, Mr. Brachman is responsible for the coordination and implementation of new project development and acquisition for Dominion.

Mr. Brachman joined the firm in 1979 after receiving his undergraduate degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Brachman has extensive experience in working with various federal, state and local housing programs. He is currently involved in the development process including community and site identification, site control, municipal approvals, architectural programming, financing, construction management, marketing and management.

Mr. Brachman's combined experience in both the development and property management disciplines provides him with the necessary experience to address both the short and long term goals for a successful multi-family development.